Inclusion & Diversity e-News | July 2018

Welcome from the CEO

Welcome to the first edition of our monthly Inclusive Sport SA e-News for 2018, providing key information about our work in relation to inclusive sport opportunities and practices in the South Australian sport and recreation sector.

We have had a busy few months in the organisation, with the delivery of the annual Inclusion & Diversity in Sport Conference hosted at the Adelaide Oval, the introduction of the ARC Campbelltown Swim Centre and additional therapists and instructors into our RapidsWim Program, transitioning to the new NDIS Price Guide, revisiting our operational and governance models, Supported Sport Program Grand Finals, our SA guys coming second at the AFL National Inclusion Carnival and building a project team to head up the ILC Project with support from the National Disability Insurance Agency. We still have more to do and we'll keep you updated with how things progress from herein.

If you like your news 'to the minute', I would encourage you to like our Facebook page and share with your friends. Here you can stay up to date with the latest news and events, and, as always, we welcome your feedback on this newsletter and our work more broadly.

I look forward to telling you more about what we are up to in the coming issues as we work together to change attitudes and bring to the fore, the same opportunities for an active lifestyle for every one of us.

See you around the grounds

John Cranwell

ILC Project announcement

We are pleased to announce an exciting partnership with the National Disability insurance Agency in the delivery of an Information, Linkages and Capacity Building (ILC) Project. The project will facilitate the collaboration of sport and recreation stakeholders and people living with a disability to produce a collective of information that showcases inclusive participation opportunities for both organisations and individuals alike.
